

It seems only a short time ago that my daughter Autumn was starting kindergarten. Now here we are getting ready for 8th grade graduation. It has been such a pleasure watching the kids grow over the years.

One of my favorite experiences has been attending Wednesday chapel for the past nine years. I have also enjoyed cheering on the volleyball and basketball teams and going to school dinners.

I remember just last year when Autumn and a couple of her friends played a joke on Mrs. Stewart, but she didn't miss a beat by getting the girls right back.

Although we are sad to be moving on, we take with us many precious memories. I feel the years Autumn has spent here at St. Peter's has given her a strong foundation for the future.
